

SURGE BIN CONTAINERS

- Specialized surge bin containers are essential components in industrial material handling systems, designed to provide temporary storage and buffer capacity for bulk materials
- Bins can be designed to hold and manage bulk quantities of food products in various stages of processing or packaging
- Available in steel, stainless steel or aluminum with food-grade finishes
- Custom solutions including slide gates, holding tanks, and exit chutes

